Co-founder, Jim Brighton, will join us to talk about the Maryland Biodiversity Project, a non-profit organization focused on cataloging all the living things in our state. The project was started in 2012, with Bill Hubick, in an effort to promote education and conservation of Maryland's natural resources.

Jim lives in Easton, MD with his wife, Colleen and has been working for Campbell's Boatyards in Oxford, MD for the past 20 years. He was named the 2017 Chesapeake Champion by the University of MD Center of Environmental Science, Horn Point Laboratory, an award established to recognize individuals in the community for their stewardship of land, water, and wildlife through their volunteer actions.

Should you require special accommodations (i.e., language interpreter, large print, etc.)
please give as much notice as possible by calling the Park Office, or the Therapeutic Recreation Office at 410.887.5370.
