Hi Chris,

The Environmental Science club is going to have an earth celebration week the week we return from spring break. We checked with the library because it fine if we overlap. Clare Dumler, the club president was supposed to come speak with you last week about the activities we are planning. She has been so with the club so I wanted to double check with you that it is okay to do the activities we have planned. Here are our ideas for the week:

Monday: Save the Bees day- Bee Face painting at lunch (small image of bee painted on cheek)

Tuesday: Green School Celebration- Balloons in dining hall, photo booth, wear green accessories (Socks/shirts?)

Wednesday: No Waste Wednesday/ Video about glaciers melting during lunch mods

Thursday: Low Energy Thursday/Video playing during lunch mods

Friday: Recycling game at lunch

The girls do not want to decorate with posters and paper in an effort to stay green, so they also asked if they could use markers on the mirrors and window

Thank you so much for your help and I apologize if this is late in getting to you! I just realized I won't be here next week to double check everything!

Thanks,

Lizzy
